C. W. Hagan's store is the place to get a nice melon at least money.

If your eyes need help go to Grigby the optician he can help you.

Mr. F. Scott Mayes has sold a Buck from his herd of hereford to Ben Cameron and Forest Coal. Price $150.

Go to O. W. Hagan's cold storage and get a nice melon just off the tree.

Ladies hats at your own price for the next 10 days at Mass fields.

Mr. Ed Drago the bustling tobacco grower shipped twenty-two bales of tobacco to the Louisville market last week. Ed has perhaps raised more tobacco in the past few years than any other man in the county and has in a good crop again this year. He says however that this is his last season with the weed.

Don't forget that you can buy a cold melon as cheap as a hot one at C. W. Hagan's.

The circus which struck the town on last Saturday drew a fair-sized crowd. We are unable to comment as to the merits of the show owing to the fact that the manager failed to furnish us usual courtesies to the press and we were deep dusted and busy besides chasing delinquent subscribers in an endeavor to raise enough funds to furnish the show and a big of prais.

Don't buy a hot melon when you can buy one at the same price at C. W. Hagan's cold storage.

The Courier Journal of last Sunday, contained the death notice of George W. Noe, at his residence in Louisville, Saturday July 27th, 1901. His funeral took place Monday. Deceased was 63 years of age. He was a clerk of Maric and Washington counties for many years and was an employee of the government during several terms of Republican Administration. He has a number of relatives in Springfield.

For school books, tablets, blank books, stationery and pencils go to Wood & Wimsatt.

The good general rain of Monday was worth hundreds of dollars to this county and now the face of the farmer wears a happy expression where before it was shrouded in gloom. The rain came in time to save most of the corn crop and tobacco and grass are greatly benefited. It is thought now that with anything like a good season from now on that the corn and tobacco crops will be nearly up to the average.

The demand for Washington County farms seems to be a growing one. Mr. G. C. Wharton the local real estate agent has been in the office for some time looking for farms. Mr.
Isaac Scott of Mercer county, W. H. Minor of Boyle and S. H.
Hodges of Casey. It is likely that some purchases will be made these men have several properties under consideration.

Mr. James Thompson has sold his cigar manufacturing business including the brand "Optimism" to Kent Barber of Bardstown who has moved the outfit to that city.
Mr. Thompson goes to Bard-town also to work in the factory.
Mr. Papke who has been engaged with Mr. Thompson in the business here is making arrangements to start another brand and to continue the business in Springfield.

Among the sales recently made by Thompson & Lake the local dealers in luggies was one of the finest "jobs" ever sent out from here. It is a rubber three carriage and was purchased by Mrs Jack Beam of Nelson county.

The dwelling house and lot belonging to J. G. Mansfield and occupied by Mrs. Hord as a boarding house has been sold to Mr. S. J. Smock for $8,475. The property was put up at auction on last Saturday afternoon and bid up to $8,405 at which price it was withdrawn. On Monday Dr. Smock bought the house and a large lot back of it privately from Mr. Mansfield. It is Dr. Smock's intention to occupy the house as his dwelling and offices. He will probably not take possession however for some time yet.

Last Saturday was the day set for holding Republican conventions at the various voting precincts throughout the county.
Very little interest appears to have been taken in the matter and in some of the precincts the voters forgot to hold any convention. The three precincts in Springfield held conventions and all named delegates to go as instructed. There was a test for one office only that of judge. C. A. Thompson and Henry Borders both aspiring to be the nominee. The county convention will be held at the Court House Springfield on next Saturday afternoon.

W. R. Thurman Dead.
William R. Thurman died here on last Thursday night after an illness of about two years during.

There was perhaps few men in the county who had a wider acquaintance than Will Thurman.
He was born in Springfield 41 years ago and was a son of the late R. R. Thurman. For about twenty years he had served as constable and deputy sheriff and was known all over the county. He was a generous hearted man and had many friends throughout the circle of his acquaintance. About eight years ago he married Mrs.
Nellie R. Neal with her little daughter Mary Logan and his brother L. H. Thurman and sisters Misses Rice, Nanette Ray, Louise and Mrs. Wright are his nearest relatives to mourn his loss.

The funeral took place from the Presbyterian church on Saturday morning. Rev. W. F.
Overstreet assisted by Rev.
George Scott conducted the services. The remains were laid to rest in Cemetery Hill.

School Books
The members of the county board of examiners are much sought for now by the representatives of the great book companies. Under the law governing the common schools the county board adopts the text books for a period of five years. The last adoption for this county was made in March 1896. The list contains McGuffey's Reader and Speller, Ray's Arithmetic, Metcalf's Grammar, Eggleston's History, Eclectic Physiology, Eclectic Geography two book series, the Petermann's Civics Government, all of which are furnished by the American Book Company. The adoption expired last March and a new adoption must be made in the near future.
The leading publishers are sending packages of school books prepared to the members of the board for their inspection.
To select suitable school books for the county is not an easy matter for at this time it can be fairly said as in the days of Solomon: Of making many books there is no end. Another item to be considered in making the adoption is the cost. The companies furnish exchange prices that is, they take up the old books and furnish new ones in their places, the paros of the school paying the difference, yet the cost of making the exchange is considerable, if a change is made.

Under the present law in Kentucky very few counties use similar text books. While a family sending children to school in one county moves into another county their school books become worthless so far as using them in the schools of the last county is concerned, notwithstanding the fact that the parent may have recently purchased new books for all of his children they will have to lay them aside and buy new ones for the entire family.

Birthday Reunion.
The children and grand children of Mr. and Mrs. Hardesty gave Mrs. Hardesty a surprise birthday dinner Monday.

This was the anniversary of her seventy-second birthday. Lunch and grand children began to arrive at the old home.

The well filled dinner baskets were laid in the buggy house and Mrs.
Hardesty was allowed to give directions concerning the preparation of dinner, when she was told that dinner had already been prepared and was served.

and delighted that she had been so kindly remembered on her birthday anniversary. At noon the guests were invited out to table laden with every good thing imaginable. To add to the joy Mrs. Hardesty's fine kitchen had been carried away the week before and was served at the dinner. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W.
Hayes and their children, David, Fannie, Mary, Robert and Elmer.
